

Defining the Future by Honoring the Past

Having started my relationship with Weims some 30+ years ago in conformation and still proudly producing purebred conformationally correct specimens, it is hard to express the excitement I feel about this breeding. As it relates to competitive bird dogs, I have grown to believe that too many great stud dogs are used with mediocre bitches. I feel the bitch tends to bring the majority of the drive and frankly the stamina. Maga has all of that and some to spare. Anyone who has seen her cannot deny that she is special. She has style to die for and a handle that makes her a joy to run whether we are at a horseback or walking trial or foot hunting with friends on the prairies or in South Texas. More than anything, Maga is an easy-going girl in the home and all about snuggles.

There is a reason why Hunser is in both the WCA Hall of Fame and the National Bird Dog Museum and Hall of Fame. In the words of his pro trainer, Roy Pelton, "Hunser was simply the best bird dog of any breed I ever worked with". As I researched Hunser a few years back, the most common feedback I got from folks running in the 70's was "When the running order came out and he was on it, we knew the best we were going to get was 2nd".

This will be my second time to use Hunser. The last litter he produced, gave me Nitro, Graf, Bae and X. These guys all just turned 8 and what a ride it has been! This line-bred litter should produce fantastic competitive bird dogs with solid conformation. The entire mission of my program is to leave the Weimaraner breed better than I found it. I believe in conformationally correct purpose bred Weims that can hunt anywhere and win anywhere in any venue. If you share that mindset and are interested in field events or hunting over the best Weimaraner bird dogs around, please reach out to me.
